1. Introduction

C.A.R.E.E.R. assessment report focuses on the results of the project's evaluation process by the collection of the participants' motivation and feedback.

The project evaluation plan included:

- a. an Initial Questionnaire and a Final Questionnaire led by Fairfax Multi Academy Trust- Erdington Academy (Birmingham -UK)
- b. a set of three Questionnaires led by Istituto d'Istruzione Superiore "Edoardo Amaldi" (Rome – Italy) for each Learning Teaching Training Activities. (abbreviated LTТА from now on) including:
 - A pre-mobility questionnaire for students
 - A post-mobility questionnaire for students
 - A feedback questionnaire for the accompanying teachers that was asked at the end of each Learning.

The surveys included the students' expectations before each LTТА and their level of satisfaction after each LTТА.

The teachers' questionnaire focused on the organisational aspects and monitoring of the project's steps.

This report also provides an impact study, based on the initial and the final questionnaires.

All the results are collected in the following sections, from the first to the last LTТА and in chronological order, reporting all the tables related to the questions that were contained in the questionnaires. Only a selection of students' and teachers' answers to the open questions is reported for each section, considering their relevance to the project objectives, originality, and commitment.

Please note that some of the partner schools have used some American spellings of English words as used in their schools.

2. INITIAL QUESTIONNAIRE

In each participating institution internal calls were started to involve students in the project. Web based application forms were prepared and advertised in every school, each according to their internal communication system.

Fairfax Multi Academy Trust- Erdington Academy (Birmingham -UK) oversaw the planning of this questionnaire using a Microsoft form.

Once the application process finished all the applicants were asked to rate from 1 (the lowest) to 5 (the highest) the following statements.

Below are reported the questions and the average ratings for each question:

1. *I know and understand the objectives of this project. Average rate 3.91
2. *I have applied to be a participant in this project because I'm interested in going to the other schools in other countries (mobilities) Average rate 4.64
3. *I have applied to be a participant in this project because I'm interested in ICT. Average rate 2.82
4. *I have applied to be a participant in this project because I'm interested in learning about future job opportunities. Average rate 4.41
5. *I have applied to be a participant in this project because I'm interested in meeting new people. Average rate 4.64
6. *I have applied to be a participant in this project because I'm interested in improving my creativity. Average rate 4.55
7. *I have applied to be a participant in this project because I'm interested in developing my team working skills. Average rate 4.64

A final open question asked to participants what they hoped to gain from being a participant in the project.

8. Please explain what you hope to gain from being a participant in this project.

Some of the most meaningful answers were:

"I hope, by being a participant in this project, that I will learn about different markets in Europe as well as the UK and build up my teamwork and communication skills."

"I would like to gain a global perspective to think and act globally. I would also like to interact with people from all walks of life. Independence is a key factor to why I joined Erasmus as in life there isn't always someone to bring you up if you fall, you need to be prepared to take the jump of being independent and you can only do that if you have confidence. On the topic of confidence, I would like to say that to strive in life and achieve the best of what you can achieve, confidence is a key subject to whether you will or you won't. Another aspect of what I am willing to gain in this project is a better understanding to communicate with other people from different walks of life as they may interpret context differently. These are many skills I would like to gain while being a part of the Erasmus project".

"This exchange programme would give me the opportunity to build upon my experience and skills in marketing and sociability as part of what I know would be a really enriching and a new environment, based upon what I've heard. I want to do this project because I know I would be terrific at it. I love engaging with people and being able to interact with them. I did a debate club, so I've developed leadership and social qualities so I would love to apply my skills to a project that I support".

"I expect to learn how to use new technologies and become better and better for my future job. I will always strive to do my best and among my expectations there is professional training. I would also like to use my knowledge and skills to help those close to me and reach the maximum of my potential".

"From this project I expect to have fun, meet new people and their way of living school, learn how to approach the world of work, and improve my English. Moreover, going abroad will make me more confident than I am, able to communicate with others without the fear of making mistakes and will give me the opportunity to know new cultures".

"One of my biggest expectations is related to my long-term dream to work and learn in culturally diverse environment, which without any doubt, sets apart by values and rigors I had the possibility to experience professionally, until now. I am more than excited about this project, and I am willing to discover new things and meet new people".

"Believe this project will help me learn thing that will make me be better in my future career and visualize it more clearly. I also think this experience will be something I will never regret or forget, and I am sure that everything I will live and learn will represent a benefit in my life".

"When I signed up for this project, there were four main objectives set in my mind. The first one was to have a better idea of what career I want to follow, the second one to improve my English skills, the third one to meet new people by traveling, and the fourth one to have fun".

"I am expecting to meet new people, to improve my English and teamworking skills, and to collaborate with most of my colleagues, if not everyone. I am expecting that this project is going to be amazing!".

"I would like to improve my English skills and be able to communicate with other people easily. I hope I could find the career that represents me the most. I hope I would create new friendships and learn about every culture".

"My expectations from this project are to improve myself in every way, to get to know new cultures and people, to develop my language, to gain experiences, to learn about future business opportunities, as well as to realize my dreams of going abroad".

"To see myself in better positions globally in my future life, to be able to do more useful work for humanity and my country And I agree to make better sense of the conditions of the 21st century and make better decisions about my future. I am also very aware that new cultures, new languages, new personalities touching my life will have a good impact on my future. I hope that while this project hosts a certain part of my life, we have done important work and made good friendships, we know of beautiful people. We hope to be able to come together with health. ♥".

3. PRE-MOBILITY QUESTIONNAIRE – STUDENTS

Before each project LTTA a short web-based survey, addressed to the direct participating students in LTTA, was conducted.

The Italian Institution, Istituto d'Istruzione Superiore "Edoardo Amaldi", was the leading partner for this outcome.

This questionnaire was submitted using a Google form.

The tables that follow are the students' answers for each mobility.

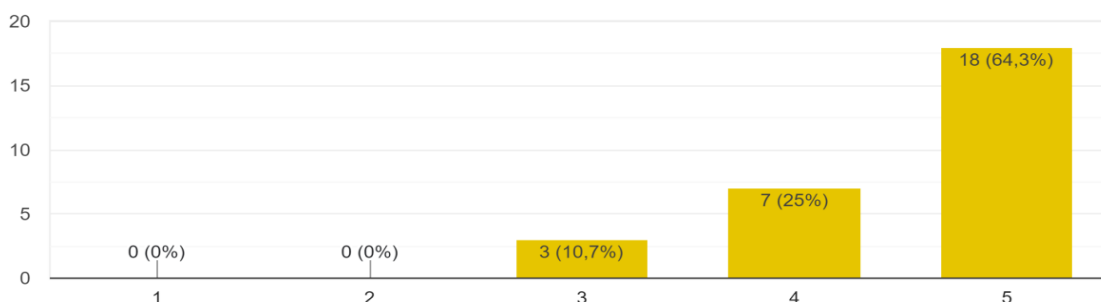

For each mobility, the countries involved in the project, chose different students to participate each LTTA.

QUESTION 4: Which activity did you find most interesting? Explain why.

- "When we went to Cappadocia to see the amazing views and to know the full story about the houses."
- "International groups activities because we had fun as a whole and not only as a country group."
- "I found going to Adana the most interesting as I was able to observe how Turkish people were able to live their day to day lives and could then talk about how life is on the daily for the Turkish students. I was also got to visit the shop."
- "Honestly I think that all the activities we did were fantastic, there wasn't an activity that surpassed the others."
- "The most interesting activity was the one in which we had to choose 3 words describing the project. I liked it because we worked in mixed teams, and I had the chance to collaborate with other nationalities."
- "I find the most interesting the "Turkish Night" because we had the opportunity to discover their traditional food and dances and we managed to get closer to the students in the project."
- "I found the Friday questionnaire very interesting. In the second part, the international one, I had the opportunity to compare myself with my companions of different nationalities from mine and it was very exciting to talk to each other in a single language despite our differences."
- "I think the most interesting activity was the Turkish Night. I tasted some of Turkish traditional food and I listened and danced to their music. It was fascinating to learn more about Turkish culture this way."
- "The presentation activity."
- "I really liked the Cappadocia trip because it was really different from what I have seen before, and I enjoyed the information that the guide gave us about the history of Cappadocia."
- "Meeting the partner schools, as we introduce ourselves and meet new people."
- "I found the ice breaking activity the most interesting as it was exciting to get to meet all the international students which enabled me to relate and find our differences. This activity really brought us together and allowed us to create great friendships."
- "I found that the Turkish night was the most interesting as we got an insight to Turkish culture, and this made me feel welcomed and excited."
- "The activity that I found most interesting was the activity in which teachers mixed members from each country to talk about the project, as it allowed us to get to know our colleagues even better."
- "The one that we did on Friday with the group of our nation, because I really liked the video that we made."

QUESTION 7: Please give reasons for your answer.

- I expected an experience where I would get something great on a personal level and in fact it was.
- I didn't expect it to be this good. The Turkish people surprised me with their kindness and good hospitality. I expected to be more working than having fun, but I realized that you could work and have fun at the same time.
- because we discovered Turkish culture
- It was a positive experience in which alongside the educational activities I had the opportunity to participate in guided tours of sites of cultural interest that impressed me a lot. I was expecting perhaps a better organization and a more precise respect for the times, but it was still a good experience.
- There was a lot of diversity. -I socialized a lot. -I found out how other educational systems are.
- The people were so friendly and nice, and they welcomed us with open arms, making us feel at home. Learning about the culture, food, traditional dances, and more was one of the most amazing experiences of my life. This is a trip I will never forget.
- I sincerely didn't expect people to be so nice. They made me feel comfortable, like I was one of them and the students were really friendly and patient with us.
- This meeting exceeded my initial expectations because I had the opportunity to see people with different cultures, to speak a lot of English and create friendships.
- It has exceeded my expectations. I did not expect how action-packed this journey was, and thoroughly enjoyed every bit of it.
- I didn't believe at first that I could gain so many skills and benefit so much from the meetings. The meetings really exceeded my expectations, and I am very appreciative for this amazing experience. We also had time to take many lovely photos.
- The experience was amazing, and this exceeded my expectations.
- My initial expectations remained positive until the end because I liked everything we did, the places we visited, the food we ate and the conviviality between everyone.
- yes, because I learned a lot about Turkish and other cultures. I met incredible people and a simply incredible country.
- It was exactly what I expected. We met with the other students we travelled, and we had fun together.
- It was fun and I learnt that there is more about the world around me instead of just Birmingham.

I had the opportunity to see places I wouldn't have visited otherwise, and of course, I had the chance to actually improve my language. I can firmly say I have a much wider vision of the world than I had before. The most important thing, however, is that I feel like a different person than I was before, I feel more confident, more powerful. I learned that you can't let the fear stop you, because otherwise you will never get out of your comfort zone. For example, I always had to speak English, even if I wasn't 100% sure of the grammar; I understood the importance of doing the things even if that might seem uncomfortable. Finally, I understood a little bit better the kind of person I want to be in my future. Always better than the day before, always curious about the world, brave and fearless."*

- "Everything was so good. Thanks."
- "Thanks for everything."
- "This experience has been amazing; I wouldn't have done anything differently."
- "I would have liked to dine with all the other guys every day but unfortunately that wasn't possible; maybe next time, even though it is not possible to plan every single night it would be useful to encourage all the groups to arrange something to do together for dinner."

- "There we made too many activities; it was very demanding, and the programme changed quite a lot."
- "There were too many changes in the original planning. Timing of the planned activities showed a non-realistic time management. There was not a good balance between the students' project activities and the cultural visits. Except for Wednesday, the other days were extremely long and not always based on the project activities. Especially the tour to Cappadocia, though very interesting, was too stressful (from 6 am to past midnight, 18 hours!). The hotel facilities and services were not exactly what we expected: very low cleaning standards, wi-fi was not working, no variety of food for breakfast and dinner."
- "Timing of the planning unfortunately showed unrealistic time management with some of the events and activities. Balance between programme aims and cultural visits need to be considered. Visits need to be thought about more carefully. Cappadocia trip was a 6am pick up and we didn't get back to the hotel until after midnight on the day of our departure. The hotel also had its challenges, in terms of standards of cleanliness, food choice and internet access. There were also many positives in terms of the positive relationships between partner countries and the welcome and hospitality of our Turkish hosts. Our students have all benefited from this experience."
- "A good balance between work and leisure time and a good plan to follow are what can make meetings fruitful."
- "Accommodation closer to school."
- "We received a very welcoming response from our Turkish partners. It was lovely to see the friendships evolve across the Countries involved. Food in the hotel could have been more varied at the start of the programme. However, once it was mentioned this was rectified with the help of the teacher at the school. General communication for the schedule was good. There were a few changes in the project which were communicated the day before, these should be noted as to the details/reasons of the change. Small items, as to the dress code or what head scarf or clothing were needed for certain trips. This could be easily reminded to the groups attending. More time was needed in the classroom to achieve the objectives of the project, and this was input into the timetable with the assistance of the partner schools. Transport had run late at times, leaving the students tired by the end of the project with long flights home ahead of them. Overall, an enjoyable visit, the Turkish school and staff were most helpful and accommodating to ensure everyone enjoyed the experience."

Our students have thoroughly enjoyed the experience and have made friends for life as well as developing in their confidence and communication skills. It would have been an advantage to receive information earlier about the final details of the week. However, we completely understand due to extenuating circumstances. We look to seeing you all again in Rome."*
- "This was a fabulous, well organised mobility in Portugal. Our students received a good welcome by everyone. The area of the school, small town and dormitory felt very safe. Whilst staying at the dormitory, English staff assumed on arrival they were responsible for every student staying in the dormitory. Although this hadn't been made clear, it was the English school that had requested the teachers stay in the dormitory due to the age of the students being younger and the UK school legislation. Our students had a great experience this week, they have made good friends, and they will take these good memories with them into the future."

- "We enjoyed the topic in Rome of being a tour guide, which flourished into the week ahead for everyone. The first day of school was classroom based after the tour of the school. We would recommend breaking up the time with students moving around a little more and being more active as some students struggled to focus. More ice breaking activities would be good. Thank you for a fabulous week, we appreciate the hard work by the Italian staff and students for hosting us."

- "As for accommodation, wi-fi was a serious problem for us. Everything was well-planned and smooth. Thank you!"
- "A very well organised mobility, that really respected the aims of the project. Staff and students had a memorable experience that will last a lifetime."
- "This was probably the mobility in which theory and practise and collaboration between teachers and many students, all perfectly involved into the activities, worked the best; the students were perfectly prepared by the teachers, and it was clear that they had learnt from the previous mobilities, which is actually an important but not always easy goal to reach. On the other side it is my opinion that all of us, as a group of teachers, should consider that to make a mobility successful it is not necessary to include many activities. The daily timetables could be less strict, taking in account that we normally work in big groups, with young people, and finally we shouldn't forget that sometimes the journeys to reach the places are long and tiring and the different timing of the participating countries. Less pressure and more spare time, to simply recover themselves, could be considered as another element too to make a good mobility a great one."

6. FINAL QUESTIONNAIRE

The final questionnaire was aimed to receive feedback from the students involved at the end of the project.

It was addressed to both direct and indirect participants in the project. Therefore, the answers are related to the whole project's activities, including those activities that each participating Institution organised in each own school.

This final survey, submitted through a Google form, was organized around 4 main questions:

Question 1: What new skills have you learnt and developed through being involved in the project?

- "Language skills, public speaking skills, creativity, originality and initiative."
- "Teamwork and being self-dependent".
- "Networking, collaboration, teamwork, leadership, confidence, empathy, public speaking, entrepreneurship."
- "I have learned how to create my own CV and how to socialize among other cultures, as well as understanding careers in a different location. I learnt and developed my communication skills with new people. I learnt about how differently we all understand things and what importance they have to us. I was most definitely able to embrace my confidence a lot more and continued to after being a part of this project which has continued into my college life and academic aspects."
- "Communication and Social skills."
- "Communication, my self - esteem, observation and community skills."
- "Communication skills, build up my confidence, increased my ambition."
- "How to plan activities and put them into effect."
- "It's built my confidence a lot and helped my public speaking from talking about locations on the tours and doing the assemblies afterwards."
- "I learned how to communicate with students with a different level of language skills than me, how to organize activities and have fun while doing them. I believe that my communication, teamwork, and planning skills developed as much as I wanted them to develop."
- "Communication, resilience, adaptability, patience."
- "Being involved in this project made me realise how important is self-confidence to succeed. I started to communicate more efficiently, and I developed my problem-solving skills."
- "I have learned a lot about cultural differences, and now have developed a skill of analysing, by that I mean observing the workplace as different layers that all come together to form a company. The impact of cultural differences is very big, with that said this is another skill I used and that is comparison and adaptation between countries."
- "I have learned to become more social and got an insight into the diverse cultures around me, it made me realise how much there is to see in the world and how projects can bring us all together to respectively learn about one another."
- "I have developed my social skills and I have learnt more about being part of a team."
- "Probably the most important thing I have learned is the fact that school can really develop one's skills in various areas. Not only that, but I've also discovered the importance of having the courage to speak my mind. Another important thing I have learned was to take risks. At first, due to the pandemic, I thought I wouldn't be able to enjoy the Erasmus experience to the fullest (I was wrong), but I decided to still sign up, and here I am now, at the end of the project, not regretting that decision at all, but being grateful for participating."
- "From the mobility in Italy, I have improved my public speaking skills. Being a tour guide has helped me learn how to keep an audience engaged, and how to simplify information for it to be easily consumed by anybody."
- "I developed my English-speaking skills."
- "I've developed my language skill as well as the ability to work efficiently in a team."
- "How to write a great cv, public speaking."

Please note that some of the partner schools have used some American spellings of English words as used in their schools.

- "I have improved my public speaking skills, my organizational skills and I learned how to act in an interview."
- "I have learned how to choose a better career for my future."
- "I learned how to communicate better and how to build a strong CV."
- "I improved my editing skills and learned how to work better in teams."

Question 2: How has being involved in this C.A.R.E.E.R project helped you in preparation for your future career?

- "It helped me a lot because I have developed great new communication skills and now, I have a better understanding of multiple jobs."
- "It has made me explore new skills and jobs and understand the world around me better."
- "Preparing the website for this project has helped me the importance of understanding the needs of clients as well as my skills in programming and web development."
- "It has helped me by presenting me what my options are and how/what to do in the future about that."
- "I was able to explore different careers that I wouldn't have thought of as well as giving me to confidence to explore myself into careers. One of the project activities which involved us visiting the hospital boat in Portugal considerably did assist in my current career choice and what I'm studying in college for it as visiting it have me a completely new perspective on how medicine worked before and how healthcare especially on transport such as boats would work."
- "I found out more about opportunities that I have."
- "I learned more about universities and how education works abroad."
- "I've learned that you don't need to be from the same area to have something in common and that actually things are neutrally very similar. I have also learned that it is very important to put yourself out there and to not let any opportunity walk by, be grateful and take it even if it doesn't lead to the best outcome the experience and lessons that you gain from that opportunity will never not be useful in some way."
- "It helped me by offering me a wide range of options I can select from. And understand the process of analysing and selecting a future job."
- "It has shown me the wide range of degrees/careers available in my city."
- "Gain friends from different countries and a feel of what it's like to work or live in a new country."
- "It's helped me want to try new things and want to participate in adventurous activities."
- "As a future project manager (hopefully), being involved in this project helped me with my planning and organizing skills and with the leadership ones."
- "It's given me a broad range of connections that stem from outside of the UK."
- "Being a participant in this project made me realise what I would like to do in my future. I discovered what I should do to follow a successful career in psychology and the steps that are involved."
- "I know how to communicate with different people and connect with someone I would never have thought of speaking to. This would help me in my future workplace."
- "I have a better perspective on the concept of collaboration."
- "It has really helped me, because I want to become a teacher in the future, and I have seen how important it is to be organised and tolerant."
- "I learned a lot about myself, especially the fact that I like interacting with people. The CAREER project helped me to be sure that I want to become a psychologist and that I will do a good job in my future helping people."
- "This project has given me a new perspective on the different options of careers. All the meetings with specialists and their insight in their professions has helped me decide on a career."
- "The experience gained in this project helped me prepare for a future career in translations. Being present at different presentations and doing exercises was helpful in gaining knowledge about different career paths."

- "This project has helped me see what it is like to work in groups with strangers in order to come up with an idea or a solution for a problem."
- "I've learned how businesses work and how I can implement this mindset in my future work."
- "I learned how education holds the key to a successful career."
- "This project informed me of the labour market and the various jobs that are out there."

Question 3: What has been your greatest achievement from being involved in this project?

- "The fact that I made a lot of new friends and I got to see how it feels to travel."
- "Becoming confident and learning different skills that I will be able to use in the future."
- "Building an entire website from scratch."
- "My greatest achievement is having friends in different countries that I still talk to."
- "My greatest achievement from being involved would have to be my visible confidence increase. Being in a situation where you may have to be the first to talk, to start a conversation and learn more was definitely daunting at first. But the outcome was amazing. As well as the ongoing friendships made, I was able to apply the confidence I gained into my college life as well as academically."
- "Made a lot of friends and developed my confidence."
- "Reconnecting with my original Italian roots and being able to express them with my friends, meeting new people and make memories with people that I love and that I will never forget."
- "Being able to see another country and its people, making friends abroad- friendships that will last for a long time."
- "Making new foreign friends and learning about their lives and cultures."
- "Meeting so many new people, even ones from my own school that I've never even spoken to before."
- "Besides making new friends that I am still in contact with, because I was involved in this project, I could choose between the multiple careers I had in mind, deciding on only one."
- "My greatest achievement has been being able to step out of my comfort zone more. I used to avoid people a lot and expect them to come up to me, but now I'm not afraid of going up to people and starting conversations. I still have a long way to go but I've made a lot of progress."
- "The greatest achievement from being a part of this project was talking to people with the same interests as me. We could relate and help each other finding a career that suits us. I will always cherish the memories made with all the participants."
- "That besides learning new stuff, I also evolved on the social side."
- "The things I've learnt from all the different people I met. One of the Romanian students taught me about her love for literature and I've learnt how interesting it can be."
- "Being able to give speeches in front of many people and making friends whom I still contact almost 2 years after my mobility to Turkey."
- "My greatest achievement was discovering what are my weaknesses and strengths, by taking part in a lot of project activities. I've made friends, I have realised what I need to do to become who I want to be, but most importantly, I have broadened my horizons."
- "I made a lot of friends and the fact that I learned so much about people and the differences and similarities between us."
- "I believe that meeting new people and talking to them about topics such as our future careers, also being able to experience a new environment have been wonderful experiences that I wouldn't have had if it weren't for the project."
- "The greatest achievement was speaking in front of a public in the Council Hall at the end of the Erasmus UK mobility project where I expressed what this projects means to me and that with hard work we can reach everything we want."
- "I'm very happy about the connections that I was able to make with people from different cultures and I'm glad I took part in this project since it made me more confident in my abilities."

7. CONCLUSIONS

The Erasmus+ programme has consistently captivated the interest of students across diverse locations, fostering a shared enthusiasm for understanding project objectives, active participation, and exploring professional and cultural opportunities. Pre-mobility insights reveal a strong desire among students to make friends, learn about diverse cultures, and showcase the programme's rich impact on their personal and professional development.

Post-mobility feedback from students, gathered through comprehensive questionnaires following Learning, Teaching, and Training Activities (LTTA) in Turkey, Portugal, Italy, Romania, and the United Kingdom, unveil the sustained positive impact of the Erasmus+ initiative that creates an inclusive environment. In these sessions, students consistently expressed positive sentiments regarding their reception in host countries, showcasing a remarkable 100% satisfaction rate in feeling welcomed. The workshops and activities, ranging from cultural site visits to team-building exercises, not only engaged students but also contributed substantially to their overall positive experiences. Evaluations of these activities revealed a balanced distribution, with a significant proportion rating them as excellent or good, fostering a constructive learning environment.

Furthermore, the post-mobility questionnaires delve into the nuanced preferences of students, highlighting a diverse range of interests such as cultural experiences, hands-on workshops, and team-building exercises. Notably, students underscored the tangible benefits derived from these activities, including language improvement, enhanced cultural awareness, and the development of interpersonal and teamwork skills.

Teachers' feedback emphasises the importance of realistic planning, effective communication, and a balanced approach to activities during LTTA sessions. While satisfaction levels vary, positive comments highlight effective working methods, communication, and the impact of the project on students' learning and personal development. The need for better schedule balance, proactive communication, and realistic timing emerges as common suggestions for improvement.

Moving beyond LTTAs, the Impact Report on the C.A.R.E.E.R project, facilitated by Fairfax Multi Academy Trust - Erdington Academy, showcases its profound impact on 180 participating students. Initial questionnaires reveal motivations such as international mobilities, ICT interest, and future job opportunities. The final questionnaires highlight diverse skill development, career preparation, individual achievements, and overwhelmingly positive comments. They showcased a broad spectrum of skills gained, preparation for future careers, individual achievements, and overwhelmingly positive comments. The project's success is evident in students' increased confidence, website-building skills, cultural awareness, and gratitude for this transformative experience, solidifying the Erasmus+ initiative's role in shaping their academic and personal journeys.
